

Nameoki discussion of airport

Dr. Donald Coleman, chairman of the airport committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, will attend tonight's Nameoki Town Board of Trustees meeting and budget hearing to answer questions the township residents and officials may have about a proposal to expand Lakeside Airport on Route 111 south of State Aid Route 35 into a commercial airport.

Dr. Coleman said the township's residents seem to have some false information on which they are basing fears that the airport will cause extensive jet noise and will require vast amounts of additional land in the future.

The concerns were among those expressed during a recent Nameoki Town Board meeting, where Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis pledged to fight efforts to expand the airport, stating the plans were Granite City-oriented and that the township officials were not consulted.

The Chamber committee is requesting that the city provide about $5,000 for a feasibility study as a beginning step for applying for state and federal aid. Much of the work already has been done in connection with plans for a new major jetport at Columbia-Waterloo, so much of the needed data will be readily available, it has been noted.

The estimated cost of expanding the airport, including some land acquisition, is $1.5 million and it would allow downtown St. Louis businesses to increase their use of air transportation from a facility only minutes away from their headquarters.

It also would offer advantages to businessmen and individuals in the Quad-City area, Collinsville, Edwardsville, and other nearby communities.

"We feel there are some misconceptions in Nameoki Township about this facility, which would be a benefit to the entire township, so I will be at the Nameoki Township meeting tonight to see if I can clarify some of the questions and explain what the airport can mean to the township," Coleman stated.

In addition to the discussion on the airport, township residents tonight will be given an opportunity to express their feelings and suggestions on tentative township budgets prior to adoption of the budgets. Budgets totaling $397,866, up $9,233 from the previous fiscal year, will be considered, including a town fund budget of $183,086, a general assistance fund budget of $104,300, a municipal retirement budget of $20,000, an anti-recession fiscal assistance budget of $11,000, and a revenue sharing budget totaling $79,500.

Projects proposed for funding under the revenue sharing program include: environmental cleanup $30,000; Arlington Heights tornado warning system $10,000; drainage and health programs $10,000; ambulance assistance

Arrest 6 for drug delivery

Six persons were arrested by Granite City and Madison police Thursday on warrants from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of southwestern Illinois alleging that they delivered drugs to MEGSI agents during a three-month investigation which also resulted in six arrests March 14.

MEGSI Executive Director Richard Woods of Granite City said agents purchased PCP (angel dust), cocaine, valium, marijuana, amphetamines and other drugs during the investigation.

Robert A. Allen, 18, of 67 Parktowne West Mobile Homes Park, who already was in the Granite City Jail awaiting a hearing on a petition to revoke his probation, was served in his jail cell with two felony warrants from MEGSI alleging unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

His bond was set at a total of $4,000 and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

At 1:55 p.m. Thursday, of

Auto falls on GC man

Irven Barr, 33, of 2701 Kirkpatrick Homes, was seriously injured at 7:30 p.m. Thursday when an auto he was working under at 105 Briarhaven Drive fell on him, causing head injuries and a cut to his right hand.

He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with bleeding from his right ear and his nose, and an injury to one eye.

A possible skull fracture was diagnosed and he was transferred to Firmin Deagle Hospital, St. Louis.

Barefoot bandit Wounded near home

A barefoot bandit, armed with a small revolver, robbed Carol Favier, a clerk at Parkside Food Store, 3202 Maryville Road, at 3:35 p.m. Friday.

Described as about 5-feet, 9 inches tall, with long, dirty hair and dirty clothes, the robber walked into the store and demanded, "Give me what you got."

The clerk took about $150 to $200 in currency from the register and handed the money to the man.

He ran from the store toward the back of Georgetown Apartments, across the street from the store, where he allegedly got into a grey Pontiac Grand Prix auto, operated by another man.

They drove south toward St. Clair Avenue, according to four witnesses.

Falls 40 feet

Stanley Amburger, 55, of 724 Twenty-sixth Place, a welder, was injured when he fell about 40 feet from a platform inside the stack of a slab furnace at the Granite City Steel hot strip line Thursday.

The slab furnace was turned off for repairs at the time.

Amburger landed on his left leg, causing a serious break and twisting of the knee. Granite City ambulance attendants required about 15 minutes to remove him from the slab furnace.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted for surgery to his left leg and for a cut to the back of his head, abrasions to his right elbow and pain in his left hip and lower back.

He was in good condition today.

PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT characterizes the career of Gladys Bass, caseworker and friend of youth at Coordinated Youth Services, seen here reminiscing with a staff member. She will retire Friday after devoting nearly 22 years to helping young people with problems in the Quad-Cities. Former clients, friends and the community at large are being invited to an open house in her honor from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday at the CYS offices, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave.

The doorbell rings at 3 a.m. and a trouble teenager is standing on the doorstep. "Can I talk to you for a few minutes, Mrs. Bass?" he asks.

A 15-year-old mother has no clothing or blankets in which to bring her newborn infant home. "Do you have anything I can take the baby home in?" asks the teenage girl over the telephone from the hospital.

"Three of the children have to have gym shoes. In fact, none of them have any decent shoes to wear to school."

"Do you have any shoes that will fit them, Mrs. Bass?" the mother of six school-age youngsters anxiously inquires. Gladys Bass has experienced more pleas for help, especially from young people, than almost anyone in town.

For the past 21½ years, her life has been one vast circle of helping — constantly expanding without beginning or end, growing larger as the years progressed.

"The work and the problems never cease. You just do what you can to help each person individually," Mrs. Bass said.

The soft-spoken, unassuming caseworker will retire Friday from Coordinated Youth Services (CYS), a Tri-Cities Area United Way agency primarily geared to aid young people.

"I came to work for the agency in 1956, meaning to stay about a year. I've stayed for 21½ years and I honestly don't know where the time has gone."

"It doesn't seem at all like more than 21 years have passed by," she said.

When she joined the CYS staff as a secretary in October 1956, the CYS headquarters, was located in an upstairs office at the City Hall building in Granite City.

The annual CYS budget for all operating expenses and programs in 1956 was $18,000. Today, the CYS budget is $269,500. Most of this is provided through state agencies — Illinois Department of Public Health, $269,000; Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (Alternative School) $58,140 and Satellite Offices, $31,808.

Also included in the total is a grant of $22,465 through Granite City School District Nine and $16,908 from the same district for operating the attendance program in the schools.

The United Way, the community fund which helps support various welfare, education, social health, youth and similar agencies in the Quad-Cities, provides $48,974 of the CYS operating budget.

Not only has the scope of CYS expanded dramatically during the years since Gladys Bass joined the small staff, but the basic thrust of the program has vastly changed.

Initially, she explained, CYS personnel principally were concerned with police referral cases — working with juvenile offenders.

"We took the young people to court and we prepared court summaries, working closely with police department personnel," Mrs. Bass said.

"The youth encountered through the CYS program already were in trouble. Police officers referred them to us."

"We used to go out in the middle of the night looking for runaways, chasing them down and taking them home or to the police station."

"For the past few years, the juvenile officer has handled these types of cases. No longer are we thought of as 'probation officers,'" Mrs. Bass explained.

"This means we have a much better rapport with the kids and we find we can work better with those who have problems if they don't think of us as police officers," she said.

Gladys Bass has succeeded well in establishing such rapport with young people and others, co-workers say.

"Former clients send me cards on Mother's Day, Easter, birthdays and at Christmas. Many send me pictures of their babies. It does give you a wonderful feeling," the retiring caseworker comments.

"Working with kids keeps you young. Age isn't important, anyway. To be active and involved is the most important thing in life."

Mrs. Bass has kept young, both in outlook and appearance. She will be 62 in May and doesn't look her age. She enjoys bicycle riding and jogging.

She was an avid roller skater but reluctantly gave up the hobby a few years ago after suffering a serious back injury in an automobile accident.

"We are a roller skating family," she said. "In fact, my husband was a professional skater when we met and we've been skating together ever

Daylight time soon

"Spring forward and fall back."

That's a handy way to remember how to change watches and clocks for the semiannual daylight saving time transition.

Quad-Cityans will turn their timepieces forward one hour this weekend — at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30, or when they retire Saturday night, April 29.

This will result in darker mornings but longer evening daylight for the next six months. Next fall, clocks will be turned back to central standard time.

Amsted promotions

Amsted Industries has announced three major management promotions, naming Louis D. Davis as corporate vice president of Amsted; James L. Green as president of American Steel Foundries, an Amsted railway supply division; and Gerald K. Walter as controller of Amsted. The assignments are effective May 1, according to Goff Smith, Amsted president.

Davis, 52, has been president of American Steel Foundries since April 1, 1977. Prior to that, he served ASF in a number of management positions, including executive vice-president and vice-president of manufacturing and product engineering.

A resident of Homewood, Ill., Davis joined ASF in 1948. He received a mechanical engineering degree from Northwestern University.

Green, Amsted controller since 1963, succeeds Davis as ASF president. Green, 51, joined Amsted in 1961 as a clerk at the company's Indiana Harbor Works and later served as an Amsted cost accountant and assistant controller.

A 1950 accounting graduate of the University of Illinois, Green lives in Bloomington.

Walter, Amsted assistant controller for four years, becomes controller. He joined Amsted in 1963 as an internal auditor.

Two years later, he moved to Amsted's Diamond Chain Division, where he was promoted to manager-systems and procedures in 1966 and secretary-treasurer in 1970.

Walter, 37, is a graduate of Indiana University with a degree in business. He lives in Naperville.

Services for Pete Hofferr, 75

Funeral services for Pete E. Hofferr, 75, a former Venice resident and retired Illinois Highway Department employee, were held Friday morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church at St. Vincent, Ark.

Mr. Hofferr died April 18 at Conway County Hospital, Martin, Ark. He suffered a stroke on March 14.

Born and reared in St. Vincent, Mr. Hofferr came to the Quad-City area in 1929. He returned to his hometown upon retiring from the state highway department about 10 years ago.

Initially, Mr. Hofferr worked at Nesco and for several years at St. Louis Screw and Bolt Co. He was employed by the Illinois Highway Department for eight years.

Mr. Hofferr is survived by his wife, Mrs. Regina Hofferr; two stepsons, Casper Burgener of Granite City and William Burgener of Venice; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Hugo (Catherine) Beck of St. Vincent, Ark., and Mrs. Ernest (Marie) Zaring of Cahokia; a sister, Miss Mary Hofferr of St. Vincent; 36 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and several nephews and nieces.

Burial was in St. Mary's Church cemetery.

Driver hurt by hit-run auto

Joseph W. Barry, 21, of 1713 Moro Ave., was injured when his auto, stopped on Edwardsville Road at 29th Street, was struck from behind by a stolen car which left the scene at 12:15 a.m. Sunday.

The hit-and-run auto was found abandoned on Edwardsville Road near the Granite City Steel blast furnace division a short time later. It had been reported stolen from Glenda Wilburn, Washington Park.

Barry was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a nosebleed and a small hole and abrasion to his right eyebrow. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Volunteers used by health clinic

The Mental Health Clinic in Granite City and its satellite offices in Highland and Edwardsville, which help in serving the southern half of Madison County, is beginning to find the use of volunteers helpful in many ways, a spokesman said today.

Volunteers are used as group leaders, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, volunteer community workers and Companion Volunteers.

"Each task requires only a few hours per week, and has proved valuable to the consumers and volunteers alike," the spokesman added.

"For those who can't volunteer their time, but would like to be involved in some way, the clinic is beginning a new Community Support Project which basically will help the clients return to appropriate supervised living situations in the community."

"To do this, household goods such as furniture, sheets, blankets, pots, pans, brooms, etc. are needed."

"Anyone wishing to donate items and/or volunteer their time in some way to the Mental Health Clinic may contact Carla Lehn at 877-4420."

Priest faces arrest

Associate Judge Thomas R. Gibbons has ordered the Rev. Edwin P. Arentsen, convicted of disorderly conduct in connection with a disturbance outside of the Hope Clinic for Women Jan. 19, to report to his probation officer at 10 a.m. Friday, April 28.

But, Rev. Arentsen said he is standing firm in his defiance of the sentence and noted, "I am not going to report to the probation officer on Friday."

"I told Judge Gibbons on March 28 that I had not yet nor would I comply with the sentence, I am not changing my mind," the priest commented. Judge Gibbons said that if the priest fails to report to his probation officer on Friday that a bench warrant will be issued that day for the priest.

The priest will be held in the Madison County Jail in contempl of court for a period not to exceed 30 days or until the priest decides to comply with the sentence, the judge said. Failure to comply could possibly result in an additional 30 days in the county jail, also in contemplation of court.

In a hearing at the Granite City, Ill. Hall Thursday, Judge Gibbons issued the order to the priest and altered his original sentence. Rev. Arentsen did not appear at the hearing.

The judge sentenced the priest to 18 months of probation on March 10. A further stipulation of the probation ordered the priest to public service work at the Madison County Jail for 30 consecutive weekly visits to minister to the

The third arrest occurred at 2:45 p.m. Thursday when Charles W. Bates, 18, of 2332 Lincoln Ave., was arrested at his home on a warrant with the same charge. His bond was set at $1,000 and he was taken with Allen to the county jail.

At 5:15 p.m. Thursday, Ronald W. Pitts, 20, of 2900 Idaho St., went to the Granite City police station and was arrested on warrants for two counts of delivery of a controlled substance. His bond was set at $2,500.

Cheryl E. Bolton, 28, of 2800 block of Idaho St., was arrested at her home at 7:05 p.m. Thursday on one count of delivery of a controlled substance and two traffic warrants on alleged failure to appear or pay fines on charges of using an expired driver's license and not having a city tax sticker on her car. She was released Friday morning after posting $1,125 cash bond.

At 10:30 p.m. Thursday, Madison police arrested William Jason Margrave, 23, of 1452 Second St., Madison, on a charge of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance and unlawful delivery of PCP, and his bond was set at $25,000.

Rev. Arentsen met with Judge Gibbons on March 28 and told the judge that he had not nor would comply with the sentence.

An appeal of the priest's conviction has been filed by his attorney, Dick Allen. In the hearing Thursday, the judge, in addition to the order to report, reduced the probation time to one year under the new Class-X sentencing law which went into effect Feb. 1 of this year. The stipulation of 30 weekly visits to the county jail remains unchanged.

Smokers

"With your diet, I was so hungry the first night that I barely even thought about smoking," she joked.

An elderly man in the class said he and his wife quit smoking and recalled being shocked and added, "I don't even think about it anymore."

He said his wife tried to stop him from going to a senior citizen meeting because people would be smoking there, but he went anyway and recalls being shocked by all the smoke in the room.

"We senior citizens need to quit smoking more than anyone else. I feel very good since I quit," he remarked.

A young man said he had tried unsuccessfully many times to quit smoking. "I had difficulty breathing and was coughing and I hoped there would be a clinic here. I read about this clinic and got really excited about it," he said.

"The films and pictures can scare you to death. They really point out how ugly smoking is," she concluded.

One woman, enthusiastic about the program, said, "The problem now is how to keep your mouth shut when you see other people smoking, especially young people. You just wish you could convince young people not to start smoking."

Crigger responded that the peer pressure of young persons to smoke "is tremendous. I gave a presentation at Granite City High School last week, and at the end I asked everyone who chooses not to smoke to stand up."

"Everyone looked around to see if his buddies were going to stand up. The pressure to smoke as a kid is just tremendous when your friends smoke."

Crigger concluded the clinic by warning all to avoid things which would remind them of smoking. He suggested the women go home, shampoo the carpet, and clean the curtains. He suggested the men get rid of their furniture and the dog. "Let's rid our homes of everything that smells like smoke. You're starting a new life here."

He warned that the weekend following the clinic can be "the worst weekend of your life for non-smoking."

He suggested that the students avoid alcohol and taverns and find new things to do that they will not associate with smoking. "Every weekend thereafter will be a little easier and a little easier," he predicted.

"There is no program in the world that can take the temptation for a cigarette away from you."

"It isn't a sin to be tempted; it is only when you yield."

All participants in the past week's morning and evening sessions were urged to attend a follow-up rally Monday, May 8, at 7 p.m. in the YMCA to meet with persons starting the program and to establish a "Granite City Stop Smoking Club" to help encourage each other not to smoke.

The Alternative School is financed with funds from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission through the Granite City Police Department, and the Granite City, Venice and Madison School Districts and Special Education District Region One.

CVS continues to provide such programs as drug abuse counseling, the neighborhood Youth Corps, summer employment and general assistance.

CVS also coordinates the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), the biggest and the last of five daughters.

"The peer pressure has a lot of influence on kids today. Maybe more than the parents have."

"People receiving the kind of help we offer know what the CVS program is all about. I think we do need more community awareness in the programs."

"Most people have no idea what some of the kids are like before they come to us. At least part of the day they are here and not running the streets, but we can't look after them 24 hours a day."

"Youths having problems come from all types of homes. No particular economic level is represented more than another," he said.

"Kids are basically the same, but we don't have to deal with the drugs and alcohol problems as we have for the last few years. Also, more families are having problems, causing varying problems with the younger members."

"Each situation is different. You can't put them in one category. We try to help each one recognize and cope or work out his or her problem."

"The kids get more and more independent at an earlier age. They have cars at 16, which makes supervision more difficult for parents."

With all the frustrations in dealing with youth, Gladys Bass said the work has been "really good for me. A lot of frustration, but a great deal of personal satisfaction and warmth of the youngsters meet along the way."

George and Gladys Bass have a clubhouse near Brussels, Ill., and she is looking forward to relaxing there, traveling and catching up with many things in her home which she never has time to do.

"I don't expect it to happen, but should I get bored by fall I may start looking for something to do. But I don't think so," the caseworker added hurriedly.

Former clients, friends, families and all area residents are being invited to greet Mrs. Bass from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday in the CVS offices at 1254 Niedringhaus Ave.

An open house in observance of Mrs. Bass' retirement is planned by the CVS executive staff, Macmillan said today.

Italian-American Club membership over 100

A newly-formed Italian-American Club of the Quad-Cities, designed to provide social and civic activities for members of Italian and American origin, has enrolled over 100 members in its initial seven-month organization program.

A group of 40 interested persons met for the first time on Sept. 11, 1977, and elected Joe Lucido to serve as acting chairman during the formation period. Since the first meeting the club has grown to 100 members, whose names will be listed on the official charter.

One of the purposes of the organization is to retain its heritage, customs, foods, traditional dances and costumes. They also wish to promote understanding and goodwill within the community as an ethnic group, a spokesman said.

After completing work on the by-laws for the club and qualifications for membership, the group held an election of officers for the ensuing year. Nick Petrillo was named the first president, and others of officers include Frank Sesturo, vice-president; Joe Lucido, treasurer; Edward Lenzi Sr., secretary; and Edward Broyles Jr., sergeant-at-arms. Directors are Tony Mangiaracino and John Petrillo.

Senator Sam Vadalabene administered the oath of office for the new officers at formal installation ceremonies held at the Venice Social Club, 717 Brown Ave., Venice.

Committee chairmen appointed for a one-year term of office are Mike Lombardi, building; Nick Lucido and Joe Barbieri, membership; Jack Moenster, sick and welfare; Gino Whaley, social; Frank Sesturo, food; John Zotti, by-laws; William Sternberg, publicity; and Jim Whaley, program.

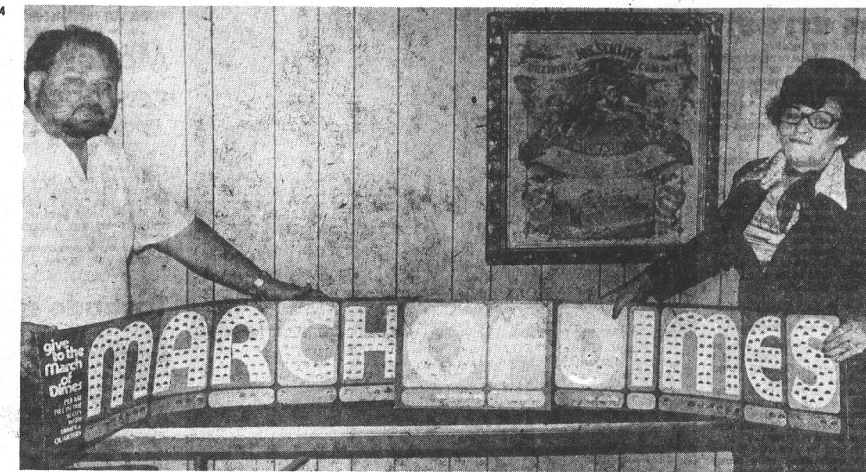

To qualify for membership, a candidate must be male, and of Italian descent, or be married to a person of Italian descent.

Meetings are conducted on the second Sunday of the month at the Venice Social Club. The next meeting is scheduled for May 21, as Mother's Day falls on the regular meeting date, according to William Sternberg, publicity chairman.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the club are advised to contact Nick Lucido at 676-4057 or Joe Barbieri at 931-3241.

The 10-year-old reported hearing her sister scream and saw the man chasing after the girl. When the older child screamed the man turned around and then ran away, the girls said.

He was described about six feet tall, thin build and in the late 20's, with medium length, dark brown curly hair. He was wearing a white shirt and blue jeans.

Set 35 mph speed limit on new Maryville Road

An ordinance establishing a speed limit of 35 miles per hour on the new section of Maryville Road between Pontoon Road and Highway 162 was enacted by the City Council last week.

The measure replaces four previous ordinances fixing different speed limits on various stretches of Maryville Road while it has been under construction.

The speed limit was passed on a motion by Sixth Ward Alderman Earl Baker who objected to a suggestion by several aldermen that the limit be set at 30 miles per hour.

Baker noted that 20-mile-per-hour zones automatically are set by state statute in school zones and that the city did not have to specify such limits in its ordinance.

The council action came as the Police Department continued a crackdown on speeding and other traffic violations in the Nameki area, but primarily along Maryville Road.

A total of 232 traffic tickets, most of them for speeding, were issued during the first five days of last week.

The speed limit bill was among a series of traffic control ordinances enacted by council members during the regular meeting.

One of these establishes a no-parking zone on the west side of Colgate Place beginning at Bryan Avenue and continuing for 85 feet to the lot at 3305 Colgate Place.

Also approved was an ordinance establishing a four-way stop intersection at 22nd Street and Bryan Avenue, and another that creates a stop intersection on 24th Street entering Logan Avenue.

A newly-negotiated, three-year working agreement between the city and the Street Department also was given formal passage. The bill contained terms that had been given tentative council approval previously.

The council was notified by Nick Vasiloff, attorney, that two civil actions against the city are planned, one in behalf of Carol Harvey, 1638 East 23rd St., for damages to her car caused when a tree on city property fell onto the auto on July 17, 1977.

The other proceedings, the council was told, will involve injuries to Pauline Harvey, 1638 E. 23rd St., allegedly suffered on July 14, 1977, when she stepped into a hole near 23rd Street and Monroe Avenue.

The Department of Transportation informed the council that it has approved a contract with Rite Electric Co. in the amount of $9,800 for modernization of the electric traffic signal at Pontoon and Nameki roads to include a left turn signal.

The aldermen authorized the American Legion Auxiliary to conduct a "Poppy Day" sales in Granite City on May 26 and 27, and approved a request by American Legion Post 113 to block off the 1600 block of State Street from noon until 7 p.m. on May 21.

The legion plans to conduct its 22nd District Convention in Granite City May 20 and 21, with a parade on May 21.

Eliminate stagnant water to help fight Encephalitis

By MARY RICHARDS Illinois Department of Public Health

Even though it is barely spring, the state health department is "gearing up" its efforts at preventing an outbreak of a late summer-early autumn disease — St. Louis Encephalitis.

What causes St. Louis Encephalitis, and how can an outbreak be prevented? To begin with, it is transmitted from birds (which carry the virus in their bloodstreams) to people, through the bite of a particular kind of mosquito (the Culex pipiens).

The mosquito bites an infected bird and then later bites a person and transmits the disease. Not all birds, of course, carry the St. Louis Encephalitis virus. But if a significant percentage of them are found to be carrying it — and if there are large numbers of Culex pipiens around — the chances of an outbreak in the human population are high.

This brings us to the way the state works to prevent an outbreak. As early in the spring as possible, members of the St. Louis Encephalitis early warning team collect mosquitoes and samples of bird blood from areas in the state which have a history of St. Louis Encephalitis cases.

The mosquitoes and bird blood samples are sent to the public health laboratory, where they are analyzed for the virus.

It is determined, by laboratory testing, that a significant proportion of the birds in a particular area is infected with St. Louis Encephalitis — and if the Culex pipiens are present in the area — the potential for human cases is great. But before human cases develop, aggressive mosquito abatement activities can be conducted to minimize the Culex pipiens.

If a potential problem is detected in spring or early summer, there is time to abate the mosquitoes before human cases of the disease develop. There is time because the Culex pipiens feed only on birds until mid or late summer, when — for a reason no one knows — they change their feeding habits and begin to feed on people. That's when mosquitoes which have fed earlier in the year on infected birds transmit the disease to humans.

What can we, as individuals, do to help? The best thing is to make sure there are no desirable breeding places for Culex pipiens in our yards.

This mosquito looks for small puddles of still, stagnant water on which to lay eggs, such as the water that collects in tin cans, rubber tires, flower vases, bird baths and other items commonly found in yards.

The Culex may also lay eggs on tiny puddles which form under thick shrubs or bushes. So, this spring, look around your yard for places where Culex pipiens might lay eggs, and remove them.

If you have a bird bath or other ornamental items which might collect water and which you want to keep, clean them out about once a week and refill them with clean water.

Our individual efforts now, combined with the work of the early warning team, can do a lot to help avert a St. Louis Encephalitis outbreak in August and September.

Those who want more information about St. Louis Encephalitis may contact: Illinois Department of Public Health, St. Louis Encephalitis Program, 2121 W. Taylor, Chicago, Ill.

GC chosen for potential development funds—Percy

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) today announced that Granite City is eligible to apply for federal funds to help finance business and neighborhood development.

Granite City is eligible to apply for the funds under the urban development grant program administered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the senator said.

The Action Grant Program was authorized by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1977. It is designed to help communities revitalize their economies and neighborhoods through the funding of special projects.

Percy said selected communities throughout the nation with a population of less than 50,000 will receive a total of $100 million this year under the urban action program.

To be eligible for funding, communities must show a satisfactory record of providing housing for low and moderate income persons and an equal opportunity policy for housing and employment.

"The age and condition of housing, population decline, rate of increase in per capita income, rate of employment growth in manufacturing and retail, and personal income levels are some of the factors used to determine community eligibility for the Action Grant Program," the senator related.

"The Action Grant Program is important to the Midwest, particularly Illinois, because it addresses the controversy over the allocation of federal funds to Western and Southern states at the expense of states in the Midwest and Northeast."

"This is the beginning of the reversal of that trend, to help assure that the Midwest receives its fair share of federal funds for community development."

Percy is a member of the Executive Committee of the Northeast-Midwest Coalition, a group of senators working to increase federal funding for Northeastern and Midwestern states.

Before a community receives an action grant, it must have a commitment from private business or industry—such as a department store or a factory—that operations, including the number of available jobs, will be expanded at a site in the community which is beneficial to both private and public interests.

"Government alone cannot solve community problems. But government and private industry working together can help communities strengthen their economies and neighborhoods," Percy said.

Community officials may contact the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Elmer C. Binford, director, HUD Chicago Area Office, 1 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill. 60602 for additional information. His telephone number is 312-353-7660.

Control of high blood pressure is essential

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

We read and hear more and more all the time about the importance of blood pressure to our health.

But, just what is blood pressure, and why is high blood pressure something to be concerned about?

Blood pressure is simply the force with which your blood pushes against the blood vessels as it travels through your body.

One of the causes of high blood pressure is narrowing of the blood vessels. The narrower your blood vessels, the harder your heart has to work to move the same amount of blood to all parts of your body.

And the harder your heart works, the greater the force with which your blood pushes against your blood vessels.

Therefore, wide arteries may mean lower blood pressure. Narrow arteries, usually caused by hardening of the arterial walls, mean higher blood pressure.

This sick feeling is usually temporary, and will pass as soon as your body adjusts to the lowered blood pressure.

Remember, high blood pressure is a silent killer, causing its damage to your body over a long, long time.

Women are just as likely to develop high blood pressure as are men.

Women who take oral contraceptives ("the pill") should be sure to have their blood pressure checked frequently. Birth control pills are known to be contributing factors in hypertension.

Although hypertension is a lifelong condition, it can be treated and controlled by following your doctor's advice.

Find out if your blood pressure is high, and get it under control before it causes heart disease, stroke or kidney damage.

If you want more information about hypertension, write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Disease Control, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

How do you know if your blood pressure is high? There are no early symptoms of hypertension.

The idea that having a red face, or being "up tight" or nervous are symptoms of hypertension, is just not true. The only way to know is to have your blood pressure checked at regular intervals.

The risk of having high blood pressure depends on many factors. If your blood relatives have it, if you are overweight, if you have a history of diabetes or kidney disease, or if you smoke, you run a higher risk of having hypertension at an earlier age.

Communities are to be notified of HUD's grant decision within 60 to 90 days of application.

Percy said 75 Illinois communities are eligible to apply for Action Grant Program funds.

Steele on panel to cut state 'red tape'

State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) has been appointed by House Minority Leader George Ryan (R-Kankakee) to the Administrative Procedure Study Committee, the arm of the legislature charged with cutting "red tape" and duplication in policies and procedures of the state's administrative agencies.

"This committee was established because unnecessary and superfluous rules were being adopted by various agencies, often in conflict with the intent of the legislature, which created their purposes and functions," Ryan commented. "In appointing Rep. Steele, I am confident he will lend valuable input to the committee and help it propose positive solutions that can be adopted by these agencies."

The committee is composed of nine members—five appointed by the speaker of the House and four by the minority leader—and will report its findings to the General Assembly.

"I am pleased with this appointment and will work diligently to make certain the committee successfully completes the intent of the legislature," Steele said. "Our main task is to wade through the volumes of rules and regulations of each administrative agency and determine which of them can be combined, revised or eliminated," he said.

"I hope we will be able to help simplify the procedures involved and help cut through some of the red tape, to enable these agencies to more efficiently and effectively serve the people," he concluded.

Heads group of employers

E. L. DeShong, director of administration at Olin Corporation's East Alton 'Olin Works,' was elected last week as president of the Associated Employers of Illinois, a statewide organization of 1,000 diversified businesses and industries and 26 trade associations.

Objectives of the Associated Employers of Illinois are to promote the interests of the state through proposals of legislation affecting business and employment.

VALUES UP 13 PERCENT. The dollar volume of Master Charge transactions in the trade area which includes metropolitan St. Louis increased 13 percent during the first quarter of 1978, compared with the first three months of 1977.

A record $203,526,000 in retail purchases and bank cash advances was generated by Master Charge cardholders. It was the first time in the area's history that first quarter business on the card exceeded $200 million. ## Roberts honored

Jim Roberts, publisher of a group of weekly newspapers based in Fairbury, is the 1977 Illinois Press Association editor of the year. Nominees included William F. Winter of the Press-Record. The award was presented at a joint IPA-Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Roberts is the 22nd recipient of the award. He bought the Fairbury Blade and Forrest News in 1983 and since then has added the Chatsworth Plaindealer, Cullom Chronicle, Onarga Leader-Review, Gridley News, Colma Press, Piper City Journal and Chenoa Clipper Times-Lexington Unit Journal.

The award is based on outstanding journalistic achievement.

To be considered, nominees must have exhibited courage in taking a firm editorial stand on controversial issues; instigated, supported or opposed issues affecting the community; edited a paper that is a credit to the community and the profession; reported news accurately, fairly and impartially; maintained high ethical standards; and have the respect of his community.

Roberts was cited for the Blade's disclosure of an incident allegedly covered up for several months by county officials and for his paper's support in helping the high school band receive more than $40,000 in four weeks for new band uniforms. The Blade won the Verle Kramer award for best newspaper in the 1974 and 1976 IPA newspaper contest.

Roberts is second vice-president of the IPA, a member of the board of directors for the National Newspaper Association and president of the SIEA.

The Press-Record was awarded third place by the SIEA in judging of best sports coverage.

WRITER JOHN GARDNER

ON TV SHOW WEDNESDAY

John Gardner, novelist and Southern Illinois University professor, will be profiled on "The Originals: The Writer in America," at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. Interviewed on his farm near Carbondale, Gardner commented to film-maker Richard O. Moore: "In my own mind, when I write a novel I'm working on particular problems — mainly problems of my own attitudes toward things. I'm one of those people of faith. You know, I believe tomorrow's going to come."

The program will be on Channel Nine. Gardner, author of such acclaimed works as "Grendel," "October," "The Sunlight," "Prologues" and "Nickel Mountain," sees writing as an addiction and the writer as constantly reminding his readers "how complicated it is."

HOUSE RANSACKED

An official of BV&G Transport, 1537 State St., said he was checking on the trucks at 16th and State streets when he saw two young men hiding in the yard. ## Two-week safety campaign begins today in Madison

A two-week safety and non-litter campaign in the Madison elementary schools began today.

Each school will be showing safety films to classes and there will be guest speakers, special safety studies and poster contests to help both children and parents become more aware of safety practices.

Porter H. Cawly, principal at Harris School, began the campaign during the 1970-71 school year and it has since been adopted by the entire school district along with St. Mary-St. Mark elementary school.

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and the City Council are asking residents to join with the schools and make a special effort during the next two weeks to clean up yards and any debris lying around.

Madison police and firemen also will be visiting with the school children about safety projects.

The campaign through the years has reduced the number of accidents that the children are involved in, the sponsors believe.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL
Mrs. Dottie Shupert, 70, of 42 Moorland Drive, was treated for pain to her left hand, chest and spine at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:35 p.m. Friday, following an auto accident. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Opportunity for Madison schools to avoid treasurer pay

A current controversy in the Cahokia school district over the issue of an appointive or elective treasurer calls attention to a similar question in Madison Community Unit School District 12, where the board has not yet selected a treasurer for the next term.

Illinois school law provides for the school treasurer to be either board member, for no salary, or a non-member, for a salary determined by the board.

While the payment of a treasurer creates a political patronage plum desired by some school boards, the amount of the salary is taken away from the funds that otherwise might be able to provide educational facilities and staffs.

Some expense is involved, in any case, but it generally is much less when a board member handles the treasurer duties, aided by the salaried administrative-secretarial staff.

After years of paying a school treasurer, Madison school officials now have an opportunity to take a stand for economy by designating one of the seven board members.

Safety needs emphasis in traffic and visitors to homes

"Safety first" is receiving increasing attention in the Quad-Cities, and the subject is highly deserving of such emphasis.

With youngsters and others being struck by vehicles in recent weeks, a major crack-down on speeding violations has been launched by Granite City police.

We would suggest the provision of long handles for crossing guards' stop signs, to safely halt all auto traffic before the guard and pupils begin crossing the street. While nearly all the guards are extremely conscientious, numerous procedures involving hazards to both guards and children have been observed this spring.

Another safety movement relates to the elderly and other local residents, who need to be wary of supposed utility servicemen, repair workers and others seeking access to homes. As was brought out at a public meeting conducted by police here Thursday, a brief delay to double-check with the utility or police or both can help safeguard the occupants against robbery, physical harm and even death.

State subsidy of private gaming firms should be avoided

Comment by Belleville News-Democrat — Governor James Thompson said he has taken under advisement a special study commission's recommendation that off-track betting on horse racing be licensed in Illinois. We sincerely hope the governor takes a long, hard look before throwing his support behind the proposal which we consider a Pandora's box.

The commission's report came within a matter of days after the Illinois Lottery Control Board announced a drastic cutback in its advertising budget because of a steady decline in the number of buyers of lottery tickets.

At regular intervals in recent years, the Illinois General Assembly has passed an assortment of bills which would legalize various types of gambling including off-track betting, numbers games, dog racing and even jai alai.

Invariably the promoters of these pie-in-the-sky proposals emphasize the state's "take" from such ventures will reduce the need for increases in general tax rates. We don't agree.

Legalized gambling is not all that glitters unless you're prepared to go all out and make it a Number 1 industry like Nevada. After the novelty wears off, such as is the case with the three-year-old state lottery, the interest declines to almost inevitable. But the costs of operating and policing — goes on and on until the state's profit almost evaporates.

Off-track betting, were confident, will attract substantial numbers of unwary characters in its operations and require considerably increased policing costs than is already the case in the state lottery and pari-mutuel betting.

Legalized gambling is enough, consider the commission's recommendation that 43 percent of the state's profit from off-track betting establishments be earmarked for the operators of race tracks to offset an anticipated decline in attendance and betting volume. That, in plain words, constitutes a state subsidy of a privately-owned gambling business.

Some towns use detour over low-water dam

Repair and construction work on the main 1200-foot lock at Granite City Locks No. 27 is a standstill at present due to the rising waters of the river but work will resume when the water stage drops back to normal depth, according to a spokesman at the locking facility.

The auxiliary lock is in use but because of its shorter length the locking times have increased, causing a backup of barges in both directions.

There have been some reports of barges detouring around the Granite City Locks by staying on the river after locking through the Alton Locks No. 26 and going over the low water dam south of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge.

The tow boat captains take on the responsibility if they decide to avoid the backup and go over the low water dam, it was noted.

The detour route can only be taken when the water is high but an obstacle in navigating over the dam is getting under the 38-foot clearance of the bridge.

Rt. 3 crash injures four

Four persons were injured when the autos of Zella Sherman, 56, of 689 Barkley Ave., Mitchell, and Albert Dwiggins, 38, of 300 Air Force Base, collided at Routes 3 and 203 north of Mitchell at 8:15 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Sherman and a passenger in her auto, Bertha Mayes, 47, of Beardstown, Ill., were taken by ambulance to Wood River Township Hospital for treatment.

Dwiggins and a passenger in his auto, Robert Dwiggins, 13, were injured, but declined to be taken to a hospital. Albert Dwiggins was issued a traffic ticket alleging failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Group from India to tour tomorrow

As a group study exchange team, a delegation from Rotary International's India District 318 is in Illinois District 646 March 18-19 and will visit Granite City tomorrow.

The six Rotarians will arrive here accompanied by Past District Governor Kenneth Evers, manager of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Granite City.

Following a tour of Granite City Steel, the group will participate in the Granite City Rotary Club's "Secretaries Day" luncheon program from 12:15 to 1:30. Hosts at the plant will be James V. Slack, Granite City Steel president, who is a member of the Rotary club, and Richard West, a Granite City Steel employee and past Rotary president.

Afternoon highlights will be a tour of the Nestle Co., Inc., instant tea plant here and then a visit to the Gateway Arch at the St. Louis riverfront.

After dinner at the Robert E. Lee Restaurant, the group will return to the Edwardsville area.

Participants are Dr. C. R. Kamath, M. Jayarama Rao, Shankar C. Paul, Suresh P. N. A. Purushotham-Purush and B. S. Surendra. Assisting Evers will be Rotary International Don Shaffner, Drew Karandjoff, Paul Sedo, Paul Mills, Steve Bristol, Bill Terrell and Walter Milton.

Messenger service to remain closed—Veizer

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said today that he will continue to enforce city gambling statutes which are keeping the Flamingo Express horse-race messenger service office here closed.

Veizer contends an Illinois Appellate Court decision in the Chicago overturning a state law which outlawed horse-race messenger services has no bearing on the gambling statute the city is using in keeping the establishment closed. "If they open, we will arrest them again and close the office," Veizer said.

He said Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron supports the position that persons operating such offices in Madison County can be charged with gambling, despite the court decision on the state statute. "I specifically prohibit persons operating such messenger services," Veizer, Byron, Venice Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley and Attorney General William G. Thompson are named in a motion in the First Appellate Court in Chicago which requests a hearing to determine if they have been in contempt of court by violating the Madison County statutes in Granite City and Venice.

The court previously issued an injunction prohibiting law officers from closing horse-race betting messenger services under the statute passed last year, but Byron ruled the injunction had no bearing on the state gambling statute and the First Appellate Court had no jurisdiction over Madison County, which is in a separate area.

The demonstration was presented by Nino's Disco Studios, Belleville.

For the next three weeks, students in the Alternative School Program, who wish to participate, will have the opportunity to take disco dancing lessons from the studio's staff.

Boats may need distress signals

The Coast Guard will hold a series of public hearings concerning a proposed regulation that would require recreational boats that would require recreational boats to carry visual distress signals when on coastal waters, the Great Lakes and the high seas.

The proposed rule would require recreational boats that are 16 feet and longer to carry both day and night visual distress signals at all times on those waters.

Boats less than 16 feet in length and manually-propelled craft would not be required to carry day signals but would be required to carry night visual distress signals between sunset and sunrise.

Youth steals March of Dimes donations

A cashier at K-Mart, 3655 Nameoki Road, saw a youth leaving the store with a bulge under his shirt and notified a security guard who chased the youth through the parking area, but lost him, last week.

The youth is believed to have stolen a March of Dimes canister from a counter display, after a lid to the container was found on the floor.

SECOND BURGLARY
About 20 tape recordings, a bicycle and some keys were stolen during a burglary last week at the home of Deborah Tomlin, 2663 Missouri Ave. The rear door window was removed to gain entry. The victim said her home has been burglarized twice in a two-week span.

Hearing on moving Bi-State office

Area residents will be invited to testify at a public hearing Tuesday, May 2, concerning the Bi-State Development Agency's plans to renovate a Laclede's Landing structure into new consolidated administrative offices.

The hearing, open to the general public free of charge, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Teger Hall on the campus of St. Louis University, 3550 Lindell Boulevard.

Bi-State currently occupies administrative offices at 3869 Park Ave. which were built in 1960 for the former Lindell Railways transit company.

Its executive offices are located on the sixth floor of the Paul Brown Building in downtown St. Louis.

Approximately 300 employees would be affected by the proposed move to the former Christian Paper Building, a historic six-story structure at the corner of 1st and Lucas Streets purchased last year for $331,000.

Bi-State's capital grant application to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation for $4,933,246 or 80 percent of the projected total renovation cost of $6,166,560.

Balance of the funding would be provided from capital allocations of City of St. Louis and St. Louis County transportation sales tax revenues, and a proposed capital grant from the State of Illinois.

Copies of the federal grant application are available for public inspection at the Paul Brown Building office (818 Olive St., Suite 530) and at 3869 Park Ave., Room 200.

Prior to the hearing, tours of the present administrative offices in the Paul Brown Building and at 3869 Park will be offered. Tours of the Park Avenue office complex will begin at 6:15 and 6:45 p.m., and a tour of the Paul Brown Building offices will commence at 6:30 p.m.

Bi-State will provide free shuttle-bus service between the hearing site at St. Louis University and the two present office locations, beginning at 6 p.m.

Bi-State presently operates a 1,000-bus mass transit system in the St. Louis area. It also operates the transportation system inside the Gateway Arch.

The agency owns and operates Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia, Ill., and serves as regional coordinator for the port of metropolitan St. Louis.

It has been proposed for involvement in a number of regional projects, including a plan to convert trash into electricity in conjunction with the Union Electric Co.

The administrative offices for these and other Bi-State projects would all be located in the Laclede's Landing building.

Still wasting energy through your roofs and walls?

Today Illinois Power and utility companies throughout the U.S. are helping customers watch their consumption of electric energy. The National Energy Watch program is aimed at conservation through improving the homes we live in and the ways we use energy.

Insulation to today's high standards is the best way to save energy.

A home with walls, attic and crawl spaces insulated to recommended standards has a "thermal envelope" that cuts heat loss to a minimum. You'll not only save energy but increase the comfort of your home remarkably. And that's the idea of the National Energy Watch.

For practical information on insulation for your home and many other ways to get more efficiency from your energy dollars, call or visit our Energy Use Advisor. If your home meets thermal conservation standards of the National Energy Watch program, you will be awarded a certificate of membership and window decal.

Long days for center's program director

Frank Siano's ambition was to become a lawyer. Because of extracurricular activities in student programming as an undergraduate at the University of South Carolina, he got sidetracked.

Presently, Siano is program director of the University Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Negotiating contracts for cultural events and dealing with current changes in law in the entertainment industry have helped satisfy his desire to work in law.

Siano admits he has "mellowed" since arriving at SIUE in 1975. Energetic with ideas, he admits he sometimes overlooked usual procedures when trying to implement new programs.

His experiences as a graduate assistant, night manager of the university center and eventual promotion to program director of the University Center have taught him lessons in dealing with personalities.

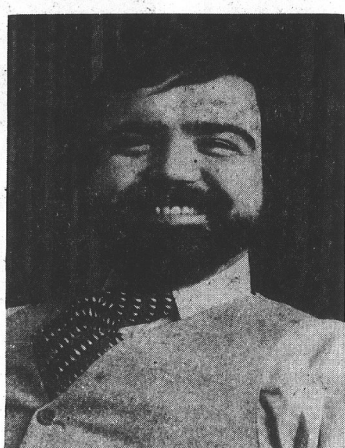

"I was impulsive when I first came to SIUE. I wanted everything to change within a matter of months. I'm still learning that change takes time," Siano comments.

He says that being honest with himself and people makes channels of communication more readily available and his goals somewhat more realistic. There are setbacks at times when dealing with various personalities and university regulations, but he has found that patience and understanding help.

During his undergraduate years at the University of South Carolina, Siano won the Algernon Sidney Sullivan Award for outstanding service to the university community. His years at SIUE have brought him the Outstanding Young Man of 1977 and the Hatz Off Award for dedication to the student union concept.

Sometimes Siano works from morning to late at night preparing for an activity, only to have the event cancelled due to unexpected weather. He cited the Margalit Dance Company as an example of what can occur with a program.

"First, there was the brainstorming about doing the program, securing funds from campus and off-campus sources, booking the artist, promoting the event, having the artist arrive and conduct workshops on campus, and then having the final performance cancelled due to weather. Expect the unexpected and, more than likely, you will get it."

Student programming complements academics, according to Siano, because students learn principles of accounting, interpersonal communication and the arts while gaining other experience.

"I am a behaviorist," he said. "I believe you are product of your environment and that your environment influences you quite a bit. That's why I believe we can try to better our environment via programming."

"Students are responsible for the programs brought to the campus."

"Programs are paid for by student funds except on occasion when funding comes from the Illinois Arts Council or various departments on campus."

"Students select, organize and implement their programs. I serve as their adviser. 'I try to help students be accountable for their work because student programming is the same as running a business.'"

"To be able to generate over $50,000 a year requires some careful decisions and trying to second-guess the university's need."

"This is the real world. If students exist, that is real. For them today, 'When I get a job in the real world,' or 'I am preparing myself for the real world,' they are deceiving themselves. Students are in the real world. College is just one part of it."

"Today's students are getting away from the activist state of the past decade. I am still an activist in my own way. I'm just a little bit more discreet about it. I don't stand on top of tables and say, 'This is what I want.'"

"I work with the system. That is not conniving. I believe I am 'up front' with people. I prefer they know where I am, so they can take it from there and work with it," Siano concluded.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT
David E. Elston, 24, of 2608 E. 24th St., was arrested at Sambo's Restaurant last week on a warrant alleging failure to appear on charges of criminal damage to property.

National award to Ill. Realtors

The governmental affairs program of the Illinois Association of Realtors has received the Grand Award for Management Achievement from the American Society of Association Executives. The IAR president is Walt Schlemer of Edwardsville.

IAR's governmental affairs program was selected for the first-place award for mid-size associations from all entries in the ASAE's annual management achievement awards contest. Other entries covered various associations' work in such areas as membership promotion, convention management and financial management, as well as other governmental affairs entries.

The judging results were announced at the mid-year meetings of the ASAE in Chicago. The award certificate will be presented to the Illinois Association of Realtors during ASAE's annual convention in August in Boston.

Criteria for selecting the award recipient included the association's successful identification of a need within its membership, planning and organizing a course of action, implementing effective action, and proving the success of the program.

Schlemer heads a 27,000-member association. He said some of the leading members responsible for the association's success in governmental affairs include Legislative Chairman William Walsh, Political Affairs Chairmen Leo J. Sheridan (1977) and Myron Thaden (1978), and Realtors Political Action Committee Trustees Chairman Elwyn Cheatham (1976-77) and Robert Dare (1978).

Highlight of IAR's award-winning program to involve its members in politics and government included:

—The creation of Realtors Capital Conferences, to bring groups of association members to the State Capitol for day-long legislative activities and meetings with legislators.

—A doubling, within two years, of contributions to the Realtors Political Action Committee of Illinois, a non-partisan election campaign fund-raising organization.

—The establishment of a governmental affairs office in the Chicago metropolitan area, home of two-thirds of the members of the Illinois General Assembly.

—An expansion of budget, staffing and committee activities for the association's members.

—A 45 percent decrease from 1976 to 1977 in the number of bills viewed as adversely affecting real estate which were introduced in the state legislature.

—The compilation of a statewide campaign monitoring package, to follow the progress of candidates for public office.

—The writing and publishing of a book to show Realtors how they can become active in politics and government.

They are instructing, from left seated, Mary Sobol and Elizabeth Rogenski, FSA members from North High School, in general office routine duties, in conjunction with the observance of Secretaries Week, set for this week.

Future Secretaries attend "day in office" project

In observance of Secretaries Week, members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, The National Secretaries Association (Int'l.) took senior girls who are members of the Future Secretaries Association into their offices, last week, to spend a day and observe first-hand the everyday business world. Students participating from GCHS-South were Renee Sharp (Amco Plumbing); Mary Hagnauer (office of City Treasurer Nick Pettillo); Cathy Goodrich (office of City Secretary Robert Stephens); and Lynn Yuvovic (Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., St. Louis).

Mrs. Gail Donnelly, secretary to Ted Eilermann of St. Elizabeth Hospital, placed the following students of GCHS-North in various offices at the hospital: Paula Bald, Joanne Barrington, Donna Dittmer, Linda King, Peg Potter, and Gail Spole.

Lori Pendergrass spent the day in the offices of Mateyka Hill law firm and Cheryl Morelan in the office of Bernard & Davidson law firm, with NSA member Becky Batson.

Nancy Bezan served as instructor to FSA member Robin Youngman at Lindsey Construction, and Gloria Revelle spent the day with Mary Ellen Sudholt at Sverdrup Corp. in St. Louis. NSA member Judy Novosel was assigned Janet McKinney to spend the day at Sidener Supply. Deb Bushong had an opportunity to see what the duties of a medical secretary were while spending the day in the office of Dr. Xamman Tulasathien.

The banking business was explained to North students Mary Sobol and Elizabeth Rogenski by NSA member Charlie Yuvovic, who took the girls to work with her at The First National Bank in St. Louis.

The members of the Future Secretaries Association will meet with members of their sponsors, the National Secretaries Assn., Tri-Cities Chapter, at a dinner meeting on Thursday, May 4, at which time awards will be presented to the winners of the senior Miss FSA and junior Miss FSA awards.

Secretaries Week officially started Sunday with the members of Tri-Cities Chapter attending a 9 a.m. mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison, followed by brunch at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

Officially "secretaries day" will be served Wednesday, April 26, and the annual secretaries dinner is scheduled for Thursday, April 27, at Cheshire Inn, Clayton, Mo.

A special membership tea is planned for Saturday afternoon at Sidener Supply Co., 19th and Adam streets. Anyone interested in learning more about the chapter and its programs, is advised to attend at 2 p.m., or call President Gail Foley at 982-2462 for further details.

Teachers to hear Anne Keefe

Key woman teachers from Madison County, all members of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, will be meeting for a noon luncheon at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wood River on Saturday, April 29.

Once-a-annum the three chapters — Alpha Eta, Beta Eta, and Gamma Epsilon — hold this joint meeting to foster closer relations between the groups. This is an outgrowth of the idea which arose when the three chapters formed a coordinating council which meets twice a year to discuss common problems and goals.

Presidents of the three chapters are Mrs. Virginia Oram of Granite City, Beta Eta; Mrs. Dorothy Roe of Highland, Gamma Epsilon; and Mrs. Martha Moomaw of Edwardsville, Alpha Eta.

Arrangements for the featured speaker, Anne Keefe of a St. Louis radio station, have been completed by Miss Martha Massa, Beta Eta vice president. Miss Keefe will be speaking on the topic "Focus on Tomorrow's Broadcasters."

Mrs. Ha Lowery, international music chairman and member of Alpha Eta, will lead the group in some musical entertainment.

Anne Keefe, a native of Rochester, N.Y., is a versatile broadcaster whose popularity in the St. Louis area has grown rapidly since she joined the radio station in November, 1976. Her on-air duties include hosting At Your Service, a station call-in information program, newscasts, and special investigative reports. In addition, she performs a variety of reporting and administrative duties as a member of the radio new staff.

Miss Keefe was educated at the University of Rochester and the NBC Radio Institute at Northwestern University. Prior to joining the St. Louis station, she was with another radio-television station. In addition to on-air duties for radio and television, her experience includes writing, directing, and producing for both media.

Anne Keefe is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, the national journalism society, and is listed in the 1977 edition of Who's Who in American Women.

Protestant Welfare, Inc. marks 24 years service

The annual dinner meeting of the Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., marked 24 years of service to the people of the Quad-Cities and featured the installation of 1978-79 officers.

H. A. Amelung served as master of ceremonies at the event held at Concordia Lutheran Church. The Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, host pastor, gave the invocation.

Pastor Twietmeyer was the installing officer for George Hopkins, president; H. A. Amelung, first vice-president; Raymond Vaughn, second vice-president; Mrs. Marie Whittle, treasurer; Mrs. Irma Taylor, executive secretary; Mrs. Norma Petty, office secretary, and Mrs. Gladys Woker, assistant secretary.

The welcoming address was delivered by George Hopkins, president of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, and selected music was provided by Mrs. Joyce Harris of Trinity United Methodist Church.

The Rev. David B. Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, spoke during the meeting, followed by a musical skit performed by H. A. Amelung.

A moment of silent prayer was observed by the group in memory of High Foster, who had been elected 1978 president, however, he died suddenly in November 1977.

Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., was organized as an emergency agency and received its charter from the state of Illinois, Dec. 31, 1953, and during 24 years has served 6,920 active cases and hundreds of incidental cases.

It was noted the organization was formed to provide emergency assistance to transients, and to local residents needing help while waiting for sick benefit checks or unemployment funds. Thirty churches and three organizations participate in the program and the ministers of the churches serve as directors for the day assigned to them, and counsel with the people, in addition to helping them materially.

The annual report submitted at the meeting for the year 1977

FIRST LADY, Mrs. Rosalynn Carter, wife of President Jimmy Carter, welcomes Business and Professional Women at a tea in the Gold Room of the White House. At right is Jeri S. Libner of South Carolina, National BPW recording secretary. Gold chandeliers and drapes, white and gold china and gold tableware are used at receptions in this room.

listed 426 cases involving 1,024 persons and 324 emergency relief orders issued for food, rent, new shoes, utilities and medicine, amounting to $7,196. There was also 113 orders of clothing and shoes taken from the store room, estimated value of $1,298.

Protestant Welfare also takes part in the Mobile Meals program by providing volunteer workers from the various protestant and catholic churches and civic organizations.

According to the report there were 9,919 meals delivered in 1977, to needy people in the Quad-City area, with one third being elderly people with low incomes.

Bakalis would limit school tax increases

Michael J. Bakalis, Democratic nominee for governor, has announced a three-part program which would limit property tax increases, increase state support for schools and seek to improve the quality of education in Illinois.

The program, developed jointly with the Democratic leadership of the General Assembly, is designed to hold down tax increases while providing replacement revenues for schools from the state.

In addition, it would require school districts to establish educational standards intended to assure that each Illinois student receives a quality education. "Our thrust," Bakalis said, "is to put a stop to widespread property tax increases caused by Governor Thompson's ongoing inadequate allocations of state resources to Illinois schools." He charged that, for the second year in a row, Thompson has recommended a smaller percentage increase for schools than in any other year during the past decade.

"The people of Illinois know that these small increases are primarily responsible for their rising school property taxes," Bakalis said. "We are committed to allocating $45 million more in state funds than was budgeted by the governor for fiscal year 1979. This increase will be provided from existing resources," he added.

Bakalis asserted that unless the additional funds are provided, "fully half the school districts will receive less money in 1979 than they are receiving this year."

Small business open house at Scott May 2

Owners of small businesses in this area may attend a procurement "open house" hosted by the Scott Air Force Base procurement office Tuesday, May 2, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

That day has been set aside to support the "Small Business Week" declared by President Carter, according to David Gabler, base procurement officer.

He said his office will sponsor a "workshop from 9 to 11 a.m. which will give the small business concerns an opportunity to become familiar with our entire operation" and determine the types of products which the air base may need. Gabler said individual counseling will be available should anyone desire that service. "There will also be adequate supplies of information available for anyone desiring such handouts," he continued.

From Belleville, Quad-Cityans can follow Illinois Highway 161 east to old 158 (north), which will bring them to the Belleville gate. Security policemen will provide directions from the gate.

Persons interested in participating are to contact the procurement office at 256-3036.

State records surrendered to U.S. attorney

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott last week had his staff turn over 16 containers of official state records to the office of the United States attorney in Chicago.

The material contains individual personnel records of hundreds of present and former employees of the attorney general's office during the past ten years.

The documents also contain telephone records of conversations with thousands of Illinois citizens during the ten years, as well as other confidential types of information, Scott said.

His aides added that the records contain no documents relating to Scott's personal finances or campaign materials, but had been correctly indicated in some press reports.

A spokesman commented, "During his tenure, Scott has maintained a policy of keeping governmental business and campaign activities separate."

"The records transported last week had been subpoenaed in connection with a grand jury inquiry, reportedly relating to the attorney general's personal finances. Scott voluntarily had turned over to the federal agencies his personal financial records, travel vouchers and campaign records months ago."

"The subpoenas issued by the official and confidential records were let stand, despite constitutional objections raised to the procedure. "State law requires that State of Illinois records secure on state property. An appeal of the constitutional issues will be pursued before the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals."

In mid-April, Scott asked U.S. Attorney General Griffin B. Bell to investigate "deliberate planting and leaking" of misleading stories by federal employees involved in grand jury and Internal Revenue Service inquiries.

Lutheran High enrollment for grades 9, 10

Enrollment for the 1978-79 school year at Metro-East Lutheran High School is open to all young people in the Madison-St. Clair counties area.

"Lutheran High stresses basic Christian education by a fully-certified staff. Ninth and tenth grade students desiring a quality Christian education in a relaxed and concerned atmosphere should contact me," William H. Ebel, principal, said today.

The school's address is 1327 Vaughn Road, Wood River, and the telephone number is 259-7285.

A wide variety of activities is available, as Lutheran High stresses involvement and participation. Interscholastic athletics include soccer, volleyball, boys and girls basketball, softball and baseball. In the fine arts area, opportunities in band, choir and drama are available," Ebel said.

"Education at Lutheran High is planned with young people in mind and Christ at the center."

"To facilitate programming and scheduling, we encourage enrollment by Monday, May 15."

"It is the policy of the Lutheran High School Association not to exclude, expel, limit or otherwise discriminate against an individual seeking admission as a student—or an individual already enrolled at Metro-East Lutheran High School—because of sex, race, color or national origin."

The school is completing its first year in 1977-78. As the original freshman class progresses toward the senior year, an additional class will be added annually to create a four-year high school.

New conference proposed for Granite preps

BY PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — The long-awaited return of Granite City High Schools to conference athletic competition could be at hand.

Athletic directors from Cahokia, High School, Edwardsville, Belleville, Alton, and Granite City North and South have met several times to discuss the possibility of forming a new league.

Old Granite City High School was an original member of the Southwestern Conference and GCHS South continued to compete in it after the North-South split in 1974. But South voted to drop out two years later after recognizing that it could not compete consistently in the league. North has been an independent since its formation.

CAHOKIA and Edwardsville, presently members of the Southwestern Conference, have been making rumblings of leaving the league for several years because of the domination by East St. Louis and Belleville East and West of conference play. Belleville Althoff is an independent.

"Larry Taylor (athletic director at Cahokia) called me a couple of months ago and asked if we'd be interested in forming a new conference," said GCHS South Athletic Coordinator Roger Smith. "I told him that we'd be more than glad to sit down and discuss it."

"He also got together with Bryan Wilkinson (athletic coordinator at North) and talked with him."

BOTH GRANITE CITY athletic coordinators said they'd be willing to join a new conference, providing they got the OK from their board of education and principals. Cahokia and Edwardsville said they have gotten the go-ahead to join the new league, providing a sixth team is found for it.

"That's when we ran into some problems," said Smith. "There aren't that many schools around here where the enrollment we would need (1,200 to 3,000) would already be in a conference or want to drop out of the one they're

Press-Record
Sports

Mon., April 24, 1978

already in."

"We talked to schools like Mascoutah and O'Fallon (members of the Mississippi Valley Conference) about dropping out and helping us form a new conference," said Smith. "But both said they wanted to stay where they are. They're happy in the Valley." Two other schools approached by the group were Mount Vernon and Centralia, presently members of the strong South Seven Conference.

"The other schools in the South Seven have been wanting to get Mount Vernon and Centralia out of it for several years," said Wilkinson. "These two schools have been dominating league play for a long time, and the other schools are tired of it."

"In fact, last year they held a vote on whether or not to allow them to remain in the league, and the outcome was 4-4, including Mount Vernon and Centralia's votes."

"WE ASKED them if they would be interested in joining our new conference, and they said they'd join, but only if they were asked to leave the South Seven. But as long as they can, they'll stay right where they are."

"We even considered talking to Missouri schools like CBC and St. Louis University High," said Smith. "But Belleville Althoff really frowned on that, since they were once involved with them in the old Bi-State Conference and said that they almost lost their shirts on the gate playing the Missouri schools. They just don't attract fans like we do over here in Illinois."

Besides, what would happen if one of the Missouri schools should win the football crown? Who'd go to the IHSA playoffs?

"We called the IHSA in Bloomington, and they told us that the nearest in-state runner-up would go to the playoffs," said Smith.

THE SCHOOL group finally came up with was Springfield Senior High School, some 100 miles from this area.

"That was the only school we could come up with," said Smith. "They were willing to sit down and discuss it, so we did a few weeks ago. That's where we stand right now, waiting on them to reply after talking it over with their school board and coaches."

"Springfield's just about the right size (1,800) for the new conference and they said they'd be willing to travel the distance involved to be in it," said Smith. "Actually, it'd be hardest on them. For instance we'd just have to go up there once every two years for football games, while they'd have to come down here several times each season."

The Mississippi Valley Conference enters into the picture in another way. Granite City North has been trying for a couple of years to get into that loop which features the likes of such schools as Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marine), Highland, Jerseyville, Roxana, Bethalto, Wood River, Mascoutah and O'Fallon.

"WE INITIATED the conversation with them about getting into the Valley," said Wilkinson. "But so far, we've had no response from them about it. I guess I have to take that as a negative response."

"We're in a bad situation," added Wilkinson. "If we join the Mississippi Valley, we'll be the biggest school in the conference, and if we get in on the proposed new one, we'll be about the smallest."

GCHS NORTH has a student population of approximately 1,700. South's enrollment is around 2,600. Cahokia is about 2,000 and Edwardsville 1,950. Althoff has about 1,000 students.

How do the Granite City coaches feel about joining a new conference? "The feeling is running about 70-30 per cent in favor of it at South," said Smith. "There are a few who'd rather not join a conference, but they're really not adamantly opposed to the idea."

North's Wilkinson voiced a little different opinion about the coaches at his school. "There aren't any coaches who I know of who are opposed to joining a league," he said. "We've been trying to get into one for as long as I can remember."

Both Granite City athletic coordinators voiced similar reasons for wanting to get into a conference. "There's just a lot more enthusiasm surrounding your sports if you're in a conference," said Smith. "There are rivalries built up through the years, the post-season all-star teams and it's easier to get into the football playoffs if you're from a conference, and have a good team."

AS THE PRESENT system stands, the champion of each conference is automatically admitted into the first round of the IHSA playoffs, no matter what its win-loss record.

Independents, such as North and South, however, must have extremely good records to receive an "at-large" bid. If a team loses two games, it can kiss the playoffs goodbye. Many times, schools with inferior records get into the playoffs because of the system.

Called after eight innings

North-South tie, 1-1

BY PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — They say it's like kissing your sister.

With darkness, rain and the Granite City South prom bearing down on Memorial Field at Granite City South, the Granite City North-Granite City South game (the final one of the South Round-Robin Tourney) was called here Saturday afternoon with the score tied 1-1 after eight innings.

The South prom was scheduled to begin at 6 p.m., but several had to settle for a little later starting time because of the extra-inning baseball affair.

The Warriors of North jumped out of top first, with a run in the first inning off North ace Doug Rains. Tom Hennrich led off with a walk, and scored on John Krokovich's one-out double. But that was to be all South got from Rains, who settled down and pitched well the remainder of the game.

NORTH had to work a little harder for the run it got off of South pitcher Tom Mahl. Using a single by Rains, a walk to designated hitter Rich Willard and two hit batsmen (Russ Gregory and Tom Greco), North rallied to tie things up in the fourth inning. Both pitchers were superb from then on.

"That Rains is a heck of a competitor," said South coach Conrad "Babe" Champion. "He comes at you with everything, he's got 100 percent of the time, he gets everything he can out of his ability."

CHAMPION should know of what he speaks. Rains played for him last summer on his American Legion team.

The game will go into the record books as a tie. There will be no makeup of this game.

There remains a possibility that a complete game will be played between the two teams sometime in May. But no plans have been made in that direction as of yet.

WITH THE TIE, South emerged as the winner of its own tournament with a 2-1 record. New Trier East-Skokie was second with a 2-1 record. Centralia was 1-2 and North was 0-2.

"I think everybody was pleased with the way the tournament went," said Champion. "I'll tell you, I'm just about as tired as I can be, but it was well worth it."

"I'm just sorry the weather wasn't a little nicer for us," he said referring to the fact that most of the games were played in 40-50 degree temperatures.

"But we got all of the games in... except that we didn't finish one."

Champion said he thought Warrior pitching was superb during the three games of the tourney. "We didn't allow an earned run in three games," he said. "That's not too bad, I don't think."

GRANITE CITY-NORTH.

meanwhile, didn't fare as well during the two-day event. The Steelers came into the tourney with an 8-6 record but were shot down Friday afternoon by New Trier East 10-2 and lost to Centralia 7-6 in eight innings in their first game Saturday.

South is in store for a busy week. Tomorrow, the Warriors are scheduled to host New Athens at 4 p.m. On Wednesday, they travel to Belleville East for another 6 o'clock game.

On Friday, the Warriors travel to Edwardsville for a rematch with the Tigers. It is a scheduled doubleheader.

South will return home Saturday for another twin bill with Collinsville. Friday's double-dub begins at 4 p.m. while Saturday's starts at noon.

North will travel to East St. Louis Assumption Wednesday for a 4 p.m. game, then travel to Madison Thursday. Edwardsville visits North Saturday at 11 a.m. in a scheduled doubleheader.

TAKIN' IT EASY during the North-South baseball game Saturday is Steeler Larry Burns. North and the Warriors played to a 1-1 tie with the game called after eight innings because of darkness. (Press-Record photo by Pete Hayes)

North falls to Trojans, Orphs; South wins first two games

BY DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record

Granite City South booted its win-loss record to 0-2 during the annual Granite City South round robin tourney, held Friday and Saturday.

South beat Centralia 7-1 Friday and defeated Skokie-Niles East 5-3 Saturday.

Granite City North lost both of its games: Niles East 10-2 and Centralia 7-6 in extra innings, lowering its record to 8-2.

SOUTH-T CENTRALIA 1

Tom Kirksey (2-0) of South pitched all seven innings against Centralia. He faced 29 batters, walked five, struck out 13, and allowed only two hits.

By the toss of a coin, South was the visiting team and home didn't adversely affect the Warriors, as they scored three runs.

Jim Thurman reached on an error and advanced when John Krokovich singled. Thurman scored when Jeff Tretter singled. Both runners scored on a hit by Danny Schaus, 3-0.

South added another in the second. Bob Stegmeyer singled and went to second when Billy Dalton grounded out. Stegmeyer scored, courtesy of a hit by Thurman.

Centralia scored its only run in the third inning. Todd Gorton singled and advanced to second when Jamie Kell reached on an error. Gorton scored as Mike Robbins singled for a 4-1 score.

The Warriors tallied three more in the top of the seventh. Jeff Vaughn was hit by a pitch and took first. Schaus doubled, scoring Vaughn. Jeff Parker and Mike DeGonia walked to load the bases.

Larry Heagy, who replaced Dalton, walked to push Schaus across the plate. Parker scored when Tom Hennrich sacrificed to center field.

NILES EAST 10, NORTH 2

North was the visiting team against the squad from Skokie. The second inning was the stage for the Steelers' first run. Doug Rains walked, stole second and crossed the plate when Terry Page singled.

North scored again in the fourth. Rusty Gregory of North, singled, stole second, advanced to third on a sacrifice by Page and scored when Kevin Hamilton grounded out to second.

Niles East tied it in the fourth and scored five in the fifth and three in the sixth.

SOUTH'S NILES EAST 3

Jeff Tretter (3-1) pitched the entire game against Niles. Tretter walked one, allowed four hits, and struck out three batters.

South scored first in the bottom of the first when Hennrich doubled and Krokovich singled.

Siemsen singled and scored for Niles when Scott Gordon sacrificed in the second. In the bottom of that inning, South led off with Schaus' hit. Both Hennrich and Thurman walked and Krokovich connected to score all three runners.

The fourth yielded a run for Niles and a 4-2 score. Niles scored again in the fifth.

The final run was scored by Smith, in the sixth. Pat Hogan singled and went to second on a wild pitch, and Parker doubled.

CENTRALIA 7, NORTH 6

Overtime or extra innings was the name of the game, as North and Centralia were tied 5-5 after seven innings. The game ended an inning later.

Bob Batoy of North scored in the fifth. He singled and stole second and Rick Willard led.

Centralia scored and tied it in the top of the second.

North also scored in the second inning. Tom Greco walked and Hamilton singled to put two runners on base. Page hit to shortstop, scoring Greco, and stole second. Both runners scored on a fielder's choice by Batoy for a 4-1 lead.

In the sixth, North's Bruce Wright walked, stole second and crossed the plate when Greco singled. Centralia tied the score in the seventh.

Centralia scored two in the top of the eighth. McMillan walked and went to second on a passed ball. Mike Robbins walked and both scored when Kell reached base on an error.

North was limited to one run in its half of the eighth. Rains scored again in the fifth, but hit to score Rains.

NILES EAST 11, CENTRALIA 2

Centralia got two runs, both in the seventh, on one hit. Niles hit safely 11 times.

Niles East's big inning was the sixth when it scored four. Al Goehls led off with a single. Bobby Sionsline also singled and both scored when Mark Bercon doubled. Tad Slowik singled and both runners scored on a hit by Robert Frankel.

Marquette tops Trojans twice

The Madison High School Trojan baseball nine dropped a twinnish at home Saturday to Marquette of Alton, 9-4 and 17-1.

The Trojan record in baseball now is two wins and nine losses. Marquette scored four runs in the second inning, one in each of the fourth and sixth innings, and three in the fifth for nine runs on 10 hits and no errors.

Madison scored two runs in the second and fifth innings, totaling four hits and two errors.

Four Trojans each tagged singles — Anthony McDonald, Joe Piechocinski, Robert Niehaus and Ed Forrester.

Lloyd Williams was the losing pitcher.

Marquette had a 2-0-3-3-1-7 log for 17 runs, 12 hits and three errors in the final.

Piechocinski scored the only run for Madison in the fifth when he walked, stole second, went to third on a ground ball and was driven home by Mark Watt, who hit a double.

Clinton Senabough was the loser. He was replaced in the fifth inning by Barry Reynolds.

The Trojans will host East St. Louis at 4 p.m. Tuesday, with Mike Danner scheduled to take the mound for MHS.

Conference?

phases from the North-South game," said Wilkinson. "But I don't think that'd be bad at all. There'd be a little too much importance placed on that game now. I think it'd be healthier if not as much was placed on it."

SMITH said it'd probably be a couple of years before a new conference could begin actual league play. "We're hooked up in basketball until 1980 right now," he said. "But we're only hooked through next season in football."

"It would all depend on what schools are in a new conference," he said. "Most of our games that we've got scheduled right now are with schools which probably would be a member of the new conference."

Wilkinson said that if his school should be accepted into the Mississippi Valley Conference, it could probably begin league play quicker than if joining a new conference.

WHETHER or not Granite City will once again be fighting for conference championships and conference all-star teams soon, no one knows yet. But the possibility is now stronger than ever.

Like kissing your sister.

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South Round-Robin Baseball Tournament is history now. At least the 1978 version of it.

But one game of the tournament will be remembered longer than the others will be. The final game of the tourney... just another in a long line of Granite City "Classics." The North-South game.

Oh, sure, there were other memorable moments. Or forgettable ones, wherever your sentiments lie. Granite City North lost its first game of the season Friday afternoon to Skokie Niles East... in a big way, 10-2. The Steelers had grabbed an early lead, but squandered it.

South swept through its first two foes, Centralia and Niles East. North fell for the second time this season in its second game... a 7-6 decision to Centralia Saturday morning in extra innings.

But somehow, that all seemed to be a preliminary to the North-South tussle.

Even when the game began, nearly an hour behind schedule, people in the stands wondered if they'd be able to finish it. It was getting dark.

The temperature hovered around the 50 degree mark, but with the gusting winds, it seemed to be much, much colder. People were huddled together under blankets in the stands.

The South students had an extra worry. Their Spring Prom was scheduled to start at 6 p.m., and they knew they'd have to be late if the game went as long as they knew it would.

South grabbed an early lead. But North tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth inning. Both pitchers, Doug Rains for North and Tom Mahl for South, moved through their opponents with ease at times. At other times, they relied on their defenses to get them out of jams they'd created.

After the regulation seven innings, the score was still tied. They played one more inning before the increasing darkness and lighting caused the game to be called. It will not be re-played. If and when the two schools do meet again this season, they will play an entire game.

They say it's almost like kissing your sister.

PHOTOS (clockwise from upper left) South pitcher Tom Mahl delivers; North catcher Jeff Hamilton shouts encouragement to his team; This North player is distraught after the tie; North shortstop Bob Batey seems to be pleading with the umpire as he calls John Krekovich safe after a steal of second base; These fans were among the many who used blankets to keep warm.
